Permanent plans for GC store

The Grant City store operated by the W. T. Grant Co. at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center on Nameoki Road in Granite City is to remain open on a permanent basis, Manager Thomas Donahue has told the Press-Record.

"We're receiving ample stocks of merchandise, and are ready and happy to serve our customers," he commented in noting that the local store is one of those chosen as part of the firm's permanent nucleus.

The Grant Co. has announced plans to close its stores west of the Mississippi River except for St. Charles and Crystal City, Mo.

St. Charles will become the westernmost store nationally and will remain the district office for this area. Also continuing are Granite City, East Alton, Collinsville, Cahokia, Centralia and two stores in Belleville. Of the 28 Illinois stores, two will close — at Marion and Moline.

Timing of school aid uncertain

Will state financial aid payments to school districts be mailed on schedule or will they be delayed?

Will the state government instead give priority to paying the salaries of its thousands of employees?

Will there be payless paydays for both state workers and school staff members?

Precisely how serious is the financial crisis facing Illinois? Most of the answers aren't known at this time, but opinions are being expressed.

Sharply differing views were voiced during the weekend by Comptroller George W. Lindberg, who is sounding the alarm, and Governor Daniel Walker, who says there is a problem but it isn't serious.

Comptroller Lindberg in his monthly fiscal report urged the Illinois legislature not to override any of Gov. Walker's spending vetoes when it reconvenes on Oct. 22.

"We have bottomed out on our cash reserves. They are gone. Gov. Walker, himself, has finally begun taking steps to ease the situation, but the general condition will not disappear," Lindberg said.

"The cash balance in the general funds is at its lowest ebb since 1961, which means that we must hold spending. We must dig in our heels."

"This state is spending more than it has coming in. And Thursday night the state could not pay all its bills. It's just that simple."

"There is no room — absolutely no room — in the current fiscal picture for any overrides."

The comptroller's fiscal report presented this picture:

"The huge reserve of tax dollars in the Illinois treasury for the last several years has all but disappeared. The state is now on a 'pay-as-you-go' basis, with little or no buffer against unexpected spending increases or sudden falls in revenues."

September ended with a balance of $39 million in the general funds. This balance represents about one day of state spending.

"Each day from now on, Illinois state government faces the problem of how to pay bills in a fair and orderly manner."

Hero lauded

Stephen Ray Smith, the Mitchell area hero who has received many honors for his rescue of a worker atop a tall sign, is featured in the October issue of Guideposts.

The non-profit monthly magazine, an interfaith publication, has a circulation of 2,200,000.

The current issue includes an article, "High Voltage Rescue," written by Smith in recalling the tragedy. While he was able to help Ed Carroll down a ladder from the Canal Motel sign, another local worker also had suffered electric shock and died after falling from the ladder.

Smith recalls that he was moving grass when he saw smoke coming from the top of the motel sign.

"I shut off the mower and dashed to the front of the building. A truck was parked there. From the truck, a metal ladder soared 40 feet to the sign," he relates.

Boy killed and woman injured critically today

A 16-year-old O'Fallon boy was injured fatally and a 22-year-old Madison woman was injured critically in a truck auto collision on McCambridge Avenue (Route 203) and Second Street, Madison, at 5:20 a.m. today.

Richard Dawson, O'Fallon, driver of the northbound auto involved in a collision with a milk truck, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Injured critically was Edith Simpson, 22, of 1100 Grand Ave., Madison, a passenger in the Dawson car, who also was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital suffering head injuries.

Norman E. Judd, 39, of Edwardsville, driver of the truck owned by Prairie Farms Dairy, Inc., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted. He suffered pains to both legs.

Dawson and his woman passenger were trapped inside the auto after the accident. Members of the Madison rescue team were called to the scene and took 30 minutes to free the two.

Police said the northbound auto driven by Dawson and the southbound truck collided head-on.

The accident tied up rush-hour traffic over Route 203 for nearly an hour.

Man found slain

The body of a 31-year-old Oak Park man, who had been shot to death, was found by a Madison County sheriff's deputy about 6 p.m. Saturday along Sand Prairie Lane near Interstate 70.

Ronald R. Lothian, the victim, had been attending a radiological technicians' convention in Collinsville and was believed killed about 11 p.m. Friday, according to doctors who performed an autopsy on his body.

The autopsy indicated he died from a bullet wound in the lower back, apparently fired from a high-powered rifle.

His vehicle was found along the road a short distance away, the deputy said.

The body was found about 40 feet from the roadway down an embankment on the north side of the road near a small lake. His shoes and wallet were missing.

Mr. Lothian was taken to a Chicago funeral home where services are pending.

$396 CASH TAKEN

A total of $396 in currency and coins was stolen from the home of Ben Bosworth, 1685 Second St., Madison, in a burglary reported at 2:40 a.m. Sunday. A cabinet and shelf had been ransacked by the intruder.

BLISSFUL SIGHT to passersby and Mrs. Cindy Long were her three babies—all fast asleep at the same time. The 3½-month-old triplets, out for their first stroll Thursday, were totally unimpressed by the attention they received while visiting the Press-Record office or from passing shoppers during their walk through Downtown Granite City. From left to right, the infants are Christy Lorraine, now weighing nine pounds, six ounces, Terry Lynn, eight pounds, eight ounces, and Gary Glen, nine pounds. The babies, traveled in two strollers redesigned and welded together, a gift from an area resident, one of many who has assisted the family.

Government crop reports Friday showed Illinois will lead the nation in 1975 corn and soybean production. Of the 5.7 billion bushels of corn grown in the U. S., Illinois will account for a record 1.2 billion and Iowa one billion. This state's soybeans will total 284 million bushels, topping Iowa's 222 million. The projections show one-half acre of corn and 1.5 Illinois yields of 113 bushels of corn and 36 bushels of soybeans.

Four famous black women are portrayed

A theatrical performance entitled "And That's The Way It Was," a fictional account of the death of Jane Pittman, was presented last week at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as one of the events of the commemoration of the nation's Bicentennial.

In the play, Miss Pittman's four assumed daughters held a seance in fulfillment of their mother's death wish (also fictional). During the seance, each daughter becomes filled with the spirit of a famous woman from black history. Each delivers a monologue, telling the suffering and hardships each of the women endured during her lifetime.

Sandra Reynolds, East St. Louis, who wrote, directed and acted in the play, was transformed into Sojourner Truth (1797-1883), a black woman noted for her famous speeches on women's rights.

An account of Harriet Tubman's life (1820-1913) was delivered by Margaret Cook, Edwardsville. According to Miss Cook, "Harriet Tubman is best known for establishing an underground 'network' which enabled Negro slaves to escape from the South."

The third monologue, given by Sharon Washington, East St. Louis, was dedicated to Mary McLeod Bethune (1875-1961). Mrs. Bethune, possessing both determination and education, was appointed to lead several federal committees during the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations.

Marcia Bowie, singing "Amazing Grace," introduced the fourth lady, Marian Anderson. A singer of spirituals, Miss Anderson has carried her musical messages throughout the United States as well as abroad. She is the only one of the four presented in the play who is still living today.

committee meet with Mr. Metz and his executive committee to discuss the replacement of a representative from the 56th District, and where did the meeting take place?

"I hope Mr. Wolf enjoys his stay, if he does stay, because there's another election coming up and Canteen Township always seems to come into recognition one way or another."

"Sometimes we help someone and sometimes we hinder someone. Canteen has a strong, solid bloc of Democratic votes. If we like someone, we get solid behind them. Horace Calvo can attest to this in the 1972 election."

"The moral of this is that Mr. Hagnauer and his executive committee have done a remarkable job of bungling up the appointment of our replacement in the General Assembly."

"So that is the reason why I say what we are doing in the 56th? We have no voice and we are not even being shown the courtesy of being contacted for anything."

"We used to belong in a district only in St. Clair County, but a few years ago some nuts in Springfield decided to redistrict us in a district with Macoupin and Washington County, and then—not happy with what they done—threw us into Madison County."

"I hope the next time they redistrict, someone in Springfield doesn't get a brainstorm and throw us across the Mississippi River into St. Louis County; that's all we need."

"All we want in Canteen Township is to be recognized. We are people just like any place else."

"I hope that someday we wind up in a district that will appreciate us and not just our votes."

"Who knows, maybe Sam Wolf is the best candidate, but we in Canteen Township were never given the opportunity to find out."

raced up the ladder. Part way up I glanced down and saw another workman crumpled on the ground. Others were rushing to his side, so I kept scrambling up toward the flaming man.

"He lay straddled against the ladder. I raised my body under him for support and tried to comfort him. Suddenly I felt an electric tingle in the ladder. The sign! Turn off the sign! I screamed to those below."

"Six inches from the ladder was a bare high-voltage electric power line. Suspended from the end of the ladder several feet above us was a metal cable carrying a steel ball and hook so that the ladder could double as a small crane."

"The ball swayed perilously close to the wire with every movement of the ladder."

"Now I knew why no one could come up the ladder. I also knew that until help came, I must stay with the man. I must stay there to support him, but his body and his spirit."

After 45 minutes, Smith related, fire and utility trucks were able to raise a "snorkel" capsule and remove the burned man, with the rescuer then backing down the ladder to safety.

Smith concludes that God was with him on the ladder:

"I knew that if I continued trying to do His will, He'd always be with me through everything yet to come."

Arrest by off-duty officer; seven charges

An off-duty policeman arrested Gary V. Wischnick, 22, of 3201 Willow Ave., at 12:25 a.m. Saturday and charged him with aggravated battery, resisting arrest, destruction of city property, reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, driving while under the influence of liquor or drugs, and improper display of license plates.

The officer reported seeing a vehicle run a red signal light while turning north from 23rd Street onto Madison Avenue.

The driver lost control of the car, knocking over a speed limit sign, and drove across the main fire station lawn. The auto returned to Madison Avenue and continued north at a high rate of speed.

The policeman said the auto was "weaving and forcing oncoming traffic off the road" and traveled through a red light at 27th Street and halted on the parking lot at National Food Store near Namekiki Road.

After stopping a car and identifying himself, the officer handcuffed the driver, who allegedly shoved the policeman several times and dragged him to the ground before being subdued.

A passing motorist witnessing the struggle stopped and was asked to summon other officers to the scene.

Wischnick refused medical treatment for a head injury.

BOY HIT BY CAR

Boy, 16, held in theft case

A 16-year-old Granite City boy was taken to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home after being accused of violations of the juvenile code and a possible probation violation.

Shirley Lambert, 2327 Delta Ave., reported at 5:30 p.m. Sunday that a bicycle had been stolen from the rear yard of her home. A man said he saw a young remove the bicycle and take it to a nearby home.

As the witness was talking to an off-duty Granite City policeman, a boy emerged from a home carrying a bicycle frame and allegedly threw it in the back yard of the Lambert Home. Several parts had been removed, it was alleged.

The off-duty officer arrested the boy and reported a woman attempted to pull the boy away from the officer. Uniformed police were called to assist and arrested the boy, using force.

At 6:20 p.m. Sunday, while police were booking the boy at the Granite City Jail, the same woman allegedly came to the police station and refused to stop yelling at police. After warning her several times to

Peggy J. Bischoff and Richard Wilbur are wed

Miss Peggy Jean Bischoff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Udell Bischoff, 3111 E. 23rd St., and Richard Wilbur, son of Ronald Wilbur and Mrs. Gladys Wilbur, both of Granite City, were united in marriage in an evening ceremony on Sept. 20 at St. John United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey officiated at the double-ring service at 7:30 in a candlelight setting. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a full length white organza gown fashioned with a high neckline and long sheer sleeves lavishly applied with lace motifs, etched with seed pearls.

The decorative pearly lace was repeated on the skirt and attached train. She wore a halo headpiece to hold in place her lace bordered fingertip veil and her bouquet was a cascade of white orchids and pink roses, intermingled with baby's breath. Matron of honor Mrs. Barbara Noe, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Pamela Bischoff, a sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Leslye Whaling, wore identical full length dresses.

Their frocks were created of turquoise blue crepe and complemented with royal blue velvet jackets and silver accessories.

Each attendant held a nosegay of multi-colored daisies and baby's breath.

Heather Higgins, the flower girl, was dressed in a long blue frock worn with a white eyelet pinafore and matching bonnet. She carried a wicker basket of rose petals.

David Noe, a nephew of the bride, served as the ringbearer. The groom was attended by Jack Champion as his best man.

Groomsmen and ushers included Gary Wilbur and Robert Bischoff, brothers of the bride couple, Robert Diller and John Daley, a brother-in-law of the groom.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall following the service.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at Tony's Restaurant.

Serving as candlelighters were Karen Bischoff and Debbie Noble, nieces of the couple. Both wore long pink crepe dresses trimmed in maroon velvet.

Mrs. Bischoff, mother of the bride, selected a full length gown of blue crepe made with a lace bodice and jacket.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Wilbur, was attired in a long beige dress, complemented with a matching jacket. Both mothers wore corsages of gardenias and pink roses.

Both the bride and groom graduated from Granite City High School. The former Miss Bischoff is employed at Essmuller Co., St. Louis. Her husband works at Archer, Daniels Midland Co., Granite City.

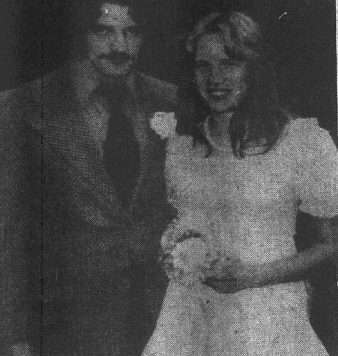

They are now residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Missouri.

Simon's Wild Ride

Simon Wasn't Simple Simon...

□ He was a friend of Daniel Boone and was later called "The Second Pioneer of Kentucky." Captured by the Indians many times he always miraculously escaped death. He met many kinds of torture and once was tied on a wild horse and pursued at high speed through vines that almost hanged him before he got away.

Perhaps his most unusual escape occurred in July of 1778. In preparation for being tied to the stake and burned, his last request for a pipe of tobacco was granted by the Indian chief. Spurning flint and steel, he used a magnifying glass to focus the sun and ignite his pipe... next, he sent a powder horn up in smoke and flame. This was enough magic for the superstitious redskins who fled the scene.

Kenton County, Kentucky bears his name...he was Simon Kenton... frontiersman.

School aid

a deficit for the second year in a row. The deficit, at the end of this year could exceed the record $38 million deficit in the last one.

The state may already be committed to an extra $45 million in school funding this year, including the governor's pledge to restore spending cuts in selected school districts at a cost of $20 million, and the annual summer school reimbursement and "impact aid" payments of about $25 million which are not included in the present pay-out rate to Illinois school districts.

Public aid demands in the first quarter of this fiscal year are at a deficit rate of at least $100 million.

Gov. Walker responded, "We began the year with an adequate balance, and we will end the year with an adequate balance, provided the legislature does not override my spending veto."

"But like a family, from time to time this year we may come up short in immediately available cash to pay a certain bill on a certain day."

"We are in such a period now. The problem is serious but it is not a crisis."

"Reports of payless paydays, school funding crises, and delays in payments to welfare recipients are cruel exaggerations."

"Bureaucratic delays can and do complicate the problem, but they are problems that can be solved by a telephone call."

"While some state officials are running around shouting crisis, there is over $60 million which has been deposited and is available for transfer to the state's general revenue fund."

"The comptroller has not included this amount in his statements about the state's fiscal position."

"This $60 million, it should be emphasized, will be used to pay current bills and cannot be available to fund overruns."

"This cash flow problem points up two issues," the governor contended.

"First is that the legislature must sustain my reductions, including the education reduction. We simply cannot afford overrides."

"A year ago at this time, the legislature overrode more than $100 million in spending vetoes."

"If not for these overrides, we would not even be having these cash flow problems."

"I want to thank Comptroller Lindberg for his support of my reductions this year. I only wish he had supported me on this issue last year."

The second issue is one of management. We do not have a central information pool in state government that lets everybody know in time who is asking for bills to be paid and when."

"Colleges and universities, the Office of Education, the legislature, the judiciary and elected officials all are sending in bills and the comptroller automatically writes checks."

"Again, let me use the family as an illustration. It's like having five or six people in a family all writing checks on the same account without knowing the bank balance and without telling each other what they are doing."

"To solve this problem, I have by telegram called a meeting for 2 p.m. Tuesday in Springfield and asked all officials to send their top aides to work out a cash management system for the state."

HOUSE BURGLARIZED

George Jackson, 408 W. 3rd St., Madison, reported at 3:55 p.m. Thursday that the latch had been knocked off the front door, and the house ransacked. A .38-caliber pistol and an undetermined amount of money were taken.

EDUCATIONAL SECRETARIES WEEK is being observed nationally from Oct. 12 through Oct. 18. Plans for the week, plus a state meeting being held here in April 1976 hosted by the Granite City Association, were reviewed last week with Granite City Mayor Paul similar subjects will be facing many changes.

"While mathematics and some sciences and technologies have used metrics partially, under the new policy they will be required to totally go metric," he asserted.

Every teacher will need to develop skills and techniques to cope with the ISBE policy, and the timing of the class will allow teachers several months for preparation of classroom materials before the fiscal year begins July 1, 1976, Ahlbrand pointed out.

A likely format for the class will be a workshop held one period per week for five weeks.

Two graduate credit hours may be earned upon completing the course, titled "Metric Education for Secondary Teachers."

"Location of the class can be on campus, at one of SIUE's residence centers or by extension in any of the school districts wishing to have an in-service training program in metrics," Ahlbrand explained. Teachers or district officials may contact the secondary education department by calling 692-2652.

Second UE tower damaged

A second apparent attempt within a week to blow up a Union Electric high voltage transmission line was discovered Saturday by a company security patrol at 101 Plum St. near the Poplar Street Bridge.

One of three steel legs of the tower, carrying 145,000 volts, was found damaged, apparently by a bomb. The incident was similar to that of a week ago when Union Electric workers found similar damage to a 120-foot tower on the levee near Hartford.

Neither tower was toppled by the apparent blasts and repairs were begun immediately in both cases.

A company spokesman said a watchman at a building in the neighborhood reported hearing an explosion at 7:30 a.m. Thursday.

St. Louis police and federal authorities are investigating the incidents.

Assault, battery charges are filed

Danny P. Hutchings, 25, of 2700 Myrtle Ave., was charged with aggravated assault, battery and resisting arrest when he allegedly refused to cooperate with a police officer and leave his wife, Mrs. Sherry Hutchings, alone.

Hutchings allegedly pulled her from a truck onto the ground at 8:30 p.m. Saturday outside their home. A struggle ensued and the officer was forced to handcuff Hutchings to effect the arrest, police reports said.

Fall fests feature Halloween, history

Late October and early November bring a last round of fall festivals and special events to Illinois, ranging from salutes to the Bicentennial to one of the biggest agricultural celebrations in the state.

"The Decorated Pumpkin Capital of the World" is Sycamore, Ill., (on Route 64, north of DeKalb) and the week of Oct. 23-31 is the time Sycamore lives up to its nickname.

Hundreds of carved, painted and otherwise decorated pumpkins will be on display on the courthouse lawn, rain or shine, during the annual Pumpkin Festival.

The activities get under way Thursday night, Oct. 23, with the Illinois Lottery Drawing, but the biggest crowd-pleasers will be on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 25-26. The Flea Market and Farmer's market are held both days, and the big parade is set for 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 26.

Quite a parade it promises to be—bands, beauty queens and hundreds of youngsters outdoing each other in colorful, scary, funny costumes.

There's also a wild spook house, but beware, because—as the people in Sycamore declare—"You won't sleep for a week after this!"

Maybe you can take your mind off those Halloween-induced fears with an evening at the circus. Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey will be at the Southern Illinois University Arena in Carbondale on Oct. 28 and 29, with a show that's touted as bigger and better than ever, all in a Bicentennial theme.

The nation's birthday is also the focus of another Southern Illinois festival, on Nov. 1-2. It's "Fort Massac 1776" at Fort Massac State Park on the Ohio River.

George Rogers Clark first claimed Massac for the colonies.

on his famous trek to Fort Kaskaskia in 1778.

This commemoration recreates colonial militia life of the period, with costumed troops, manning the reconstructed building. Outside, frontier life will be portrayed in crafts, music, games and contests like pumpkin pushing, tobacco spitting and musketry.

The Department of Business and Economic Development is urging Illinoisans to "take advantage of the fleeting fall color in scenic Illinois at any of these festivals, or write to the Illinois Office of Tourism (222 S. College, Springfield 62706 or 2209 W. Main, Marion 62959) or the Illinois Adventure Center, 150 N. LaSalle, Chicago 60606 for Illinois travel information.

Warning against sympathy sales

Attorney General William J. Scott has advised Illinois residents that so-called "sympathy sales" teams are active in several cities in the state.

Scott said his office is investigating several such operations, which play on sympathies by indicating their sales somehow assist handicapped people.

Scott said past experience of his Charitable Trust and Consumer Protection Divisions has found that the sales operations often employed no persons with generally recognized physical disabilities, or employed only a minimal number of such people.

He said that recently his office has obtained an Assurance of Voluntary Compliance from one such firm that it would observe state law governing deceptive practices.

Scott declined to name the operation, saying he did not want to mislead the public into believing any "sympathy sales" operation was sanctioned by the attorney general's office.

Scott also observed that many of the sales organizations have similar names, employing such words as "handicapped," "Blind," "Deaf" or "Disabled," which contributes to public confusion.

The attorney general said that even when his office obtains a compliance agreement, it frequently takes a good deal of monitoring to make sure the sales organization makes a genuine effort to comply with consumer protection laws.

It's reasonable to assume,

Scott said, "that during the time we spend investigating each such sales campaign that's reported to our Consumer Protection Division, hundreds of sales are made."

"While we will vigorously prosecute provable cases of deception, the best protection for a consumer is to refuse to buy over-priced items that are offered through a sympathy sales pitch."

"People who want to really help the handicapped should donate through established local agencies — and buy whatever items they want at normal prices from local retailers."

Scott said some sales firms solicit both by telephone and door-to-door, offering everything from long-lasting light bulbs to such hand-made goods as potholders.

The Voluntary Compliance agreement requires the sales firms to report the number and identities of handicapped people they employ, describe the handicaps, and make clear in their sales presentations that they are "for profit" operations.

Scott said citizens who want to check on any organization that represents itself as a charity can contact his Charitable Trust Division in Springfield, at 217-782-1090, to determine if the organization is registered.

The attorney general said any citizen who wishes to register a complaint about deceptive practices can do so by calling the Consumer Protection Division, also at 217-782-1090.

Fast food plan favored

Establishment of a fast food operation at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was approved Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees, subject to approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The SIU board authorized expenditure of up to $120,000 for the project, involving renovation of the "Cougar Coffee House" in the northeast corner of the dining area of the University Center, with funds to be provided by the Student Welfare and Recreational Facility (SWRF) Building Trust Fund.

The board also approved the food engineering firm of E. G.

Marohn and Associates of St. Louis as design consultants for the project.

Estimated costs of the project include $45,000 for the physical structure and utilities; $52,000 for equipment and equipment installation; and $23,000 for furniture, drapery and decoration.

The new facility will occupy 30,000 square feet of floor space. A fast food service operation was proposed by the management of the University Center, in conjunction with the Student Senate and the University Center Board.

The Student Senate approved SWRF funding for the proposal in September.

According to university officials, many university center operations nationally are moving to fast food operations similar to the popular hamburger restaurants, and are experiencing high customer satisfaction with reduced expenditures.

SIUE officials said they have been searching for methods to reduce escalating food service operating costs while meeting demands for low-cost feeding.

County GOP Women's event Oct. 20

The annual fall meeting of the Madison County Federation of Republican Women's Clubs will take place Monday, Oct. 20, at Elder Church in Edwardsville. Plans for the event were announced at last week's business meeting of the Granite City Republican Women's Club held in the East Side Levee and Sanitary District office, 1707 Madison Ave. Mrs. Jane Reese, president, said the county meeting will feature Mrs. Paul Arndt of Chicago, first vice-president of the Illinois Federation of Republican Women's Clubs, as guest speaker. Edwardsville GOP women will serve as hosts. An election of local officers was scheduled for the Nov. 4 business session. Appointed to prepare a slate of new officers were Lillie Ann Finner, chairman, Vernice Walter, and Edna Kohlbrecher. Reports were presented concerning the county federation's second annual dinner dance and the local club's participation in the Charity Days festival, both taking place in September. An educational program describing the makeup and objectives of the national and state federations of Republican Women's clubs was given by Mrs. Walter. A social hour and refreshments concluded the evening.

Mrs. Hudgens is hostess to group

Mrs. Gladys Hudgens was hostess to the Ruth Ford Bible Study Group, which met last week at the Second Baptist Church. Mrs. Naomi Rongey opened the meeting by leading the group in singing "Send the Light."

Mrs. Hudgens gave the call to prayer and Mrs. Deloris Ayres was in charge of the program. Assisting were Mesdames Rongey, Alene Reagan and Leta Stephens. Refreshments were served by the hostess who used a Halloween theme in the decorations.

Others present were Mesdames Florence Paul, Grace Lambert, Rachel Westphal, Alma Burnett, Myra Groe, Naomi Burnett, Ruby Mayberry, Goldie Smith and guests, Dorothy Barnes, Ruth Hassler, Cardene Burnett, Bob Lewis and Betty Lewis.

The November meeting will be with Mrs. Stephens, 2115 Illinois Ave.

Classes in tote painting offered

A popular tote painting course will be reoffered by the Granite City Park District as part of its fall and winter series of adult programs. Classes will start Thursday and enrollment will be limited to 10 persons in a beginners class and 10 in an advance session.

Registrations will be taken prior to Thursday at the Wilson Park office, or by calling 877-3059.

The course teaches decoration of trays, glassware and similar objects. Fee for each class is $5 per person.

Open Top Value stamp center

A new Top Value trading stamp redemption center will open Thursday in the Bellmore Village Shopping Center. Extensive remodeling work has been completed and the center is to be stocked this week in preparation for Thursday's opening.

The trading stamps are given by many area stores and dealers when a purchase is made. The accumulated stamp cards may be exchanged for merchandise at the redemption centers.

Expect revision of new tax

Opponents of a nearly half-million dollar "working cash fund" for Madison County approved by the County Board last month, have pledged they will call for a new vote on the measure at this week's County Board meeting, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

Seek use permit approvals

The Madison County Board will be requested Wednesday to approve special use permits for four persons in Quad-City area townships.

The requests received the endorsements of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals

Ford certified as accountant

A certificate of certified public accountant in Illinois has been awarded by the University of Illinois to Dennis Eugene Ford, 2214 Edison Ave., Granite City, who passed the examination in Missouri.

The Illinois certificate was awarded on evidence he holds a valid CPA certificate obtained by passing a standard written examination and is qualified in all other respects under Illinois law.

Illinois CPA certificates are awarded either through examinations or reciprocity. The University of Illinois has awarded 18,477 CPA certificates since 1903, when it was given the responsibility for examining and certifying accountants.

DRIVER INJURED

A rear-end collision on Madison Avenue at Second Street at 7:14 p.m. Friday, involved a pickup truck operated by Virgil A. Roberts, 1507 Second St., Madison, and an auto driven by Larry G. Harper, 1809 Joy Ave. Roberts received a minor injury, but reportedly refused medical attention.

measure at this week's County Board meeting, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

Following on-site public hearings on the applications. Recommended for approval is a request by E. C. Barnhart, owner, Ron Corey, agent, and Sharon L. Kline, purchaser, for a permit to construct a permanent residence next to Bob Barton Realty on Maryville Road southeast of Route 203, and to operate an interior decorating studio within the home. The property is in an R-2 single family residential district of Madison Township.

It is recommended the request be granted with the stipulation that all parking be on the side of the building.

Also recommended for approval is a request for a special use permit for Birdie C. Tayon to replace a smaller mobile home currently on the property on the north side of Highway 162 between Lake Drive and Route 111, in an R-2 district of Nameki Township.

A request by Paul Leon Whitford for a permit to place a mobile home on property south of West Pontoon Road and Route 151 also has been endorsed by the zoning board. A stipulation that it be for the sole occupancy of Whitford and for a period not to exceed five years is recommended.

Roland Schroek's request to continue a previous special use permit to occupy a mobile home on his property is recommended for approval. The property is at 2023 Chisholm Road in the Cloverleaf Addition southeast of Madison, an R-3 single family residential district of Venice Township.

Special state legislation allowed counties to approve a special tax assessment of 2.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation to be collected in 1976 and 1977, with the money used to set up a working cash fund from which the county can borrow interest-free.

Although the tax measure was approved by the County Board 20-8 last month, opponents of many board members did not understand the issue and are expected to change their votes.

In other business, the board's vote to enter into contracts with Granite City, Madison, Venice Township and other bodies to implement the 1975 Community Development program.

A resolution authorizing Granite City to reimburse the county monthly for the city's share of the cost to extending Maryville Road is to be considered. The road is to be extended from Pontoon Road south to Route 162.

Since Granite City does not have sufficient funds to pay its share of the cost, the resolution proposes the county pay the full amount with the city's cost being reimbursed in monthly payments.

Other agenda items include action on a proposed perpetual easement on county highways for Madison County Cablevision Corp. a resolution authorizing demolition of unsafe buildings and structures, and an agreement between the county and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission for completion of a comprehensive revision of the county's Subdivision Control Ordinance.

Fall Festival game festive event for football Steelers, 26-6

Fall Festivals are a time for rejoicing, and the GCHS North football Steelers added to the homecoming-time cheer with a 26-6 conquest Friday night of the Assumption High School Steelers of East St. Louis.

The contest was marred frequently by penalties, including numerous five-yard calls against North in the early going and many 15-yard infractions by Assumption in the closing stages of the contest after the outcome no longer seemed in doubt.

Stars were numerous for the Steelers, including John Nolan with two touchdowns, David Kwiatkowski with a TD pass reception and Leo Pelek with an interception that he carried across for a touchdown. Greg Corey outduelled Assumption's Mike Vrabec with nine completions on 16 aerials for 63 yards to the visiting quarterback's three of 12 for 45 yards.

Each signal-caller threw for one touchdown. Vrabec's long TD pass going to Pat Delaney, North amassed a 19-5 edge in first downs and rolled up 132 yards on the ground to 60 for the Steelers.

Its on-side kick attempt to open the game backfired for Assumption, with the Steelers gaining possession on their 45. Despite gains of six yards by Jateff and four yards by Nolan during the drive, North had to punt, the ball being downed at the enemy 17.

An ensuing kick went out of bounds at the Assumption 26, giving Coach Tom Wyronek's Steelers ideal field position.

Joe O'Gara ran for three yards but a later running play lost four yards and Corey was tackled on the 35 while trying to pass.

Assumption took a punt on its 10 but fumbled on the first play, Bruce Wright recovering on the 12 for 45 yards.

Pioneer 22. A penalty and Bruce Jateff run of one and nine yards earned a first down five yards away from the goal. After North lost three yards, Jateff gained them back. A pass fell incomplete, and Corey's field goal try was wide to the right.

The Steelers picked up one first down but then punted. North — with a minute left in the first period — began a 70-yard march that culminated in a touchdown with 9:55 remaining in the 12-minute second quarter.

A one-yard Jateff run and a 15-yard penalty led to a first down on the North 47, followed by another on the Pioneer 42 as Jateff ran behind effective blocking for 11 yards around left end.

Nolan next broke several tackles to reach the enemy 10, also being aided by key blocks thrown by James Shemwell and Scott Odum.

Jateff punched to the nine and O'Gara to the two. Nolan then knifed through the right side of the line for a two-yard TD plunge.

The extra-point kick was too far to the left, leaving the score 6-0.

A new North scoring threat developed when Larry Schleicher fell on a Pioneer fumble at the Assumption 30. Pelek ran six yards and, overcoming two penalties, Corey passed twice to Schleicher for four yards and ten yards.

Nolan's fourth-down run for three yards earned a first down on the 18. Jateff picked up three yards but Pelek was held for no gain, a pass was deflected and a penalty was called, necessitating a punt, downed on the Pioneer five.

A return kick set the stage for a successful TD drive from the North 49. After a loss, Corey aerialled to Schleicher for 23 yards and a first down on the Pioneer 30.

A pass to Kwiatkowski netted eight yards, and another to Schleicher earned seven yards for a first-and-ten at the 15.

Pelek ran to the seven. Following a penalty, Corey passed 12 yards to Kwiatkowski for a touchdown, 41 seconds before the halftime intermission. A two-point conversion pass-fell incomplete.

Assumption had reached its 40 when time ran out.

The Steelers struck quickly in the third quarter, returning the kickoff to their 37 and gaining a first down at the 50 on three running plays.

After a seven-yard pass, Vrabec uncorked a 43-yard TD pass play to Delaney, on a two-point attempt, Vrabec was tackled before he could pass, and the score stood at 12-6 with 9:11 remaining in the third period.

The next North drive saw only one first down, on a 15-yard run by Nolan. After a five-yard penalty, Jateff skirted left end for 12 yards.

The visitors returned a punt to their 22 and gained a first down on the 36. But a pass was intercepted at the North 43 by Schleicher, who returned it to the Pioneer 33 with 4:50 left in the third quarter.

Corey ran three yards and Nolan two but a ground play and pass both failed, Assumption taking over on downs on its 28.

The first Pioneer play lost two yards and Pelek then intercepted a pass and sprinted 25 yards for the third Steeler touchdown.

With 2:02 left in the third period, Corey passed to Kwiatkowski for two points and a 20-6 lead. Kwiatkowski was hurt when tackled but was able to return to action.

Immediately after the fourth quarter began, Assumption punted and North responded with a 42-yard scoring drive.

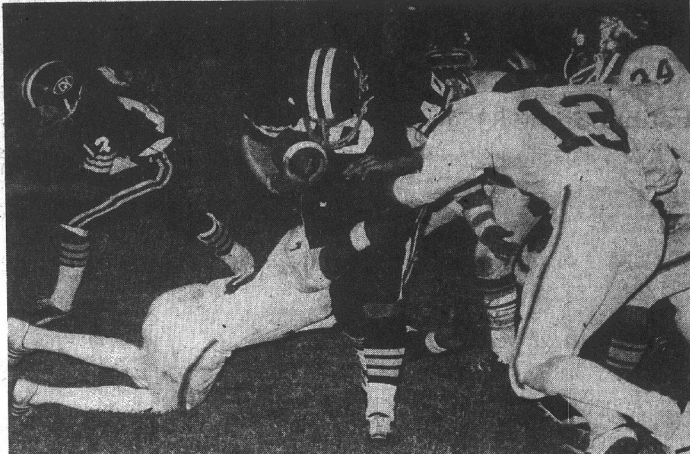

Jateff ran 12 yards and a Corey-to-Kwiatkowski pass netted four yards plus a 15-yard penalty. A late tackle injured the receiver while he lay on the field after the catch, and the offender was banished.

From the 11, Nolan wasted no time in running the ball across for a 26-6 score with 10:36 left in the game. A run, an illegal procedure penalty and an incomplete pass left the score unchanged.

During the next six offensive series, penalties were called at an accelerating pace, finally occurring on almost every play.

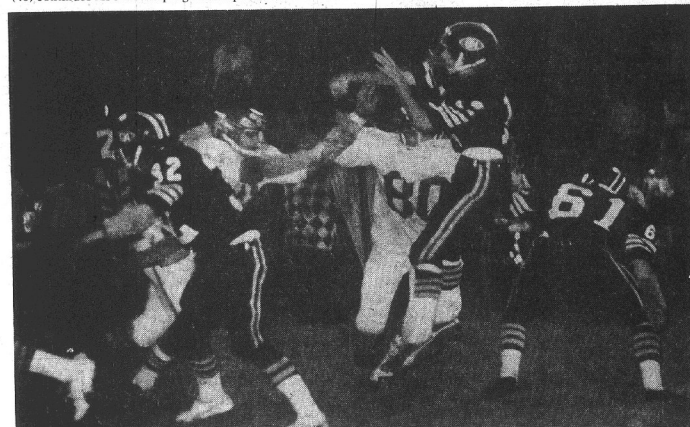

Three times in a row, Assumption was contained within its own half of the field. North penetrated to the enemy 28 on the second of its fourth-period possessions.

The final Steeler series began with Jateff intercepting a Pioneer pass on the North 37. Only 42 seconds remained, and two five-yard ground gains ran out the clock.

STEELER JOHN NOLAN has been starting for the GCHS North grid team all season. Shown during Friday night's Fall Festival game against Assumption, Nolan (40) continues his forward progress despite the efforts of several Pioneer tacklers. No. 12 of the Steelers is Quarterback Greg Corey. Nolan scored two touchdowns, on runs of two and 11 yards.

SPARKLING AERIAL GAME by Greg Corey was one of the reasons for North High School's 26-6 win over Assumption Friday. He is shown here throwing a completed pass despite a rush by two Pioneer defenders. Steelers pictured are Bruce Jateff (32) and John Sands (61).

Warriors impressive in win at Collinsville

A week of hard-hitting practice sessions paid off for Granite City High School South Friday evening at Collinsville as the Warriors defeated the Kahoks 14-7.

"We went with a one-on-one session Monday and then followed up with actual contact Tuesday and Wednesday," said Coach Stan Wojcik, "knowing that if we could stop very Ashmann we had a 50-50 chance of winning."

South High's defense held the senior Kahok to 22 yards rushing in the first half and impeded Willie Abart, allowing him only 21 yards in the first half to stifle Collinsville's running game.

Both teams were hampered by fumbles, five by South and four by Collinsville, but Warriors Steve Avedisian, Stan Myers and Mike Clark each recovered one of the Kahoks' miscues. Collinsville fell on three South fumbles.

Penalties also played a role in the game. Collinsville had a total of nine penalties for a loss of 95 yards, and South three for 35 yards.

Key tackles prevented Collinsville from coming up with big offensive plays. Warriors John Bogosian and Keith Moran combining their hitting for 39 of South's 84 total tackles.

Both teams had opportunities to score on field goals early in the contest. Collinsville on a 37-yard attempt by Pat Ross and South on a 25-yarder by Quarterback Bryan Bunjan, but both attempts missed.

"Collinsville's split-six defense," said Wojcik, "hampered our efforts several times."

Once midway through the second quarter, a Warrior drive from the South 45 to Collinsville's three-yard line met strong resistance there in all four plays, giving the Kahoks possession a half-yard from their goal with 5:15 left in the period.

Collinsville mistakes were converted into Warrior gains on several occasions. Ashmann fumbled on a handoff on the first play after the long Warrior drive, giving South the ball at Collinsville's two.

South's front line opened the way and Alan Benko got to the nose to carry the ball into the end zone. Bunjan's boot was good and South held a 7-0 lead with 4:53 left in the first half.

Collinsville's Ross missed another three-point attempt with 42 seconds left after the Kahoks moved from their 45 to South's 16 in seven plays.

At halftime, Collinsville held the edge in rushing yards, 78-57, but trailed South in air yards, 31-0. South had recovered two fumbles and Collinsville one. Collinsville scored points at home, for the first time this season in three games, after Mike Hollingshead fell on a Warrior fumble at South's 34 following the second-half kickoff.

Moving to South's 19 on a defensive holding penalty, Kahok Quarterback Tom Burg rolled left and then turned into the line for a dash into the end zone.

Ross's point-after-attempt found its mark, the kick deadlocking the contest at 7-7 with 9:58 left in the third quarter.

The ensuing kickoff put South in possession at its 20, and in two plays Ward and Benko gained five yards.

"Our spotter up on the roof called the next play," said Wojcik, pointing high in the air toward the fieldhouse roof.

Bunjan took the snap from Center Dan Stanton and handed it to Fullback Frank Baranica, who then released a 25-yard aerial to a waiting Ward at midfield.

Ward scampered another 50 yards down the left sideline for a touchdown. Bunjan's placement kick boosted the South lead to 14-7.

The Warrior defense preserved the victory, aided by penalties, putting the enemy's back to the wall at the five after

Trojans bow in overtime; hosts on Wednesday

Friday evening's gridiron contest between Madison High and Dupu developed into a defensive battle, with each side yielding lone touchdowns during regulation time, sending the game into overtime to decide a victory. The host Tigers won 12-6.

Madison next entertains Assumption at East St. Louis at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The entire first period of play at Dupu looked, to the fans, like a "seesaw" as each team took turns holding the other on downs. Dupu's only penetration into Trojan territory was to the Madison posed the only sustained drive threat of the quarter when Chris Horton, from Madison's 38, faked a fourth-down punt and scampered 25 yards to Dupu's 27. But the Tiger defense forced a punt four plays later.

In the second period, with Dupu struggling at its own nine, Horton gave Madison a scoring opportunity with a fumble recovery at the Tiger 22.

But a Madison miscue on the next play gave Dupu back the pigskin and Jerry Mills returned it 15 yards. Trojan Mark Jiles later knocked down a fourth-down pass by Quarterback DeWayne Goley.

With 3:37 left in the half, Madison's Dwight Chillers took a handoff from Quarterback Mike Woods and rambled 67 yards to paydirt.

Chillers was stopped on a two-point conversion run attempt. "Big" Bill Reel, destined to gain the game-winning TD, deadlocked the contest with less than a minute remaining in the half when he capped a 40-yard ground drive with a seven-yard TD run. Mills' extra point kick missed its mark, leaving the score tied 6-6.

Taking the kickoff following hunking, Madison moved from its own 32 deep into Tiger country at the 10. A TD run attempt resulted in a fumble, giving Dupu possession.

Madison received renewed hope when a Dupu fumble was picked up by Robert Stern. He an aerial by Woods fell into the hands of Reel with four seconds left in the third quarter.

The Tigers threatened to put the game on ice with a fourth-period march, moving from their 10-yard line to within two inches of the Madison end zone. Hard hits by Chillers, Harold Sullivan and Al Crawford on a TD run attempt forced the ball into the air and Mike Terrell came up with it for Madison.

A fumble by Madison, at its 26, ended a Trojan advance. A last-ditch effort at winning in regulation time was made by Reel with 18 seconds left in the fourth period.

Madison, at its own six, attempted a pass to Chillers but Reel stepped in for the interception, giving Dupu good field position at the 23.

A field goal boot by team captain Mills failed as time ran out, forcing the contest to be decided on downs in overtime.

Each side is given four chances to score from the opponent's ten-yard line, with the first team entering the end zone being declared the victor. Madison took the first chance, but two running attempts by Chillers resulted in losses, and a tackle of Woods in the passing pocket resulted in a loss of 11 yards.

Chillers attempted a 22-yard field goal as Dupu rushed in. The kick missed the target.

Madison defenders Jeff Thompson, Deirdre Haynes and Al Crawford next held Tiger Terry Aldridge to a four-yard gain and Reel to five more, and then stopped Goley at the goal line on a quarterback keeper.

On fourth down, Reel got across on a pitchout from Quarterback Reel picked up 92 yards of Dupu's 219-yard rushing total in the contest. Chillers earned 88 of Madison's 222 yards gained on the ground.

In passing attempts, Woods completed none in six attempts, and Goley earned 12 yards on one completion in nine attempts.

Madison lost four of its five fumbles, and recovered three of Dupu's six.

The victory boosts Dupu's season mark to 5-1, and puts Madison at 2-4 going against Assumption in Wednesday's 7:30 p.m. contest here at the Trojan field.

Quad-Cityans aiding boy, 4, who is battling cancer

Quad-City residents are being contacted to purchase peck bags of apples, costing $2.50 each, by volunteer friends of four-year old Donald Ogle, a cancer victim who will be undergoing medical treatment for 18 months, according to Mrs. Marlene Decker, chairman of the project.

All proceeds countywide will be donated to a trust fund at the First National Bank of Collinsville to provide finances for medical expenses of the youngster.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ogle, 2 Cappa Lane, Collinsville. Mrs. Ogle is the former Beverly Bloomquist, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloomquist, former Granite Cityans now residing in Rocky Ridge, Mo.

The youngster, suffering from Ewing's carcinoma, underwent surgery Aug. 11 at Cardinal Glennon Hospital and has had both radium treatments and chemotherapy since the operation.

The boy has lost the use of one kidney but doctors have hopes that through treatment he will regain his health.

Mrs. Ogle reports that her son takes treatments five days a week for seven weeks and then is released for six weeks before continuing the series.

Radium treatments were administered at the Mallinckrodt area of Barnes Hospital and are now being followed with chemotherapy at Cardinal Glennon Hospital.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

DONALD OGLE

County Fireman's Hall on Collinsville Road, a former Biederman building. Advance tickets will cost $6 a couple and $9 at the door on the evening of the dance, Mrs. Decker said.

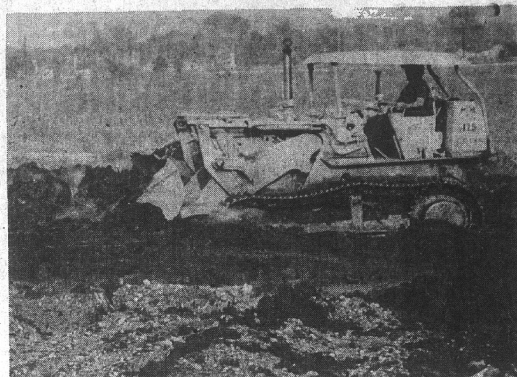

Tentative plans are being completed for bake sales in the Collinsville area by Mrs. Luan Warner.

Mrs. Decker said there is now $1,047 in the trust fund as a result of various projects, including a rummage sale and a residential collection by the Collinsville Reserve Officers Training Corps which collected $452 in a one day campaign.

The chairman also announced that a fund office has been set up at 412 E. Main St., Collinsville.

Contributions mailed to the Donald Ogle Fund, Post Office Box 562, Collinsville, will be forwarded to the bank.

Crackdown on air emission state permit

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency last week charged Midwest Metals, Inc., 490 W. St. Louis Ave., East Alton, with operation of an air emission source without the required permit.

The case was prepared by the Illinois EPA and filed before the Illinois Pollution Control Board. Pat Lynch, manager of the Illinois EPA's Division of Air Pollution Control, said state regulations require a permit from the agency to insure that such operations do not pollute the air.

"But there's more to it than that," Lynch said. "To receive a permit, the applicant must, among other things, be in compliance with state pollution control regulations."

"Without that permit — without the Illinois EPA review — we have a potentially serious situation. Without permits, Madison County residents have no assurance that a company is taking the necessary steps to control pollution and the necessary steps to protect their health," Lynch continued.

The agency is asking the board to fine the corporation up to $10,000 for the alleged violation and up to $1,000 for each day the alleged violation continues.

In addition, it is asking the board to order them to cease operation of the emission source unless an operating permit is applied for from the agency within 10 days and obtained within 90 days from the date of application.

The office of the Illinois attorney general will act as counsel for the agency.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

FINALLY!! At long last, the Top Value Redemption Center is going to open this Thursday. It is located in the center of the Bellmore Shopping Center in Granite City. It took a lot longer than we anticipated, but we hope it will be worth the wait. Stop out first time you get a chance and meet the people. Remember, until Thursday, you can still redeem your Top Value Stamps in our Garden shop Tuesday and Wednesday 11 a.m. till 5 p.m.

Meanwhile, back in the grocery business, prices really seem to have leveled off. That is, all except meat prices, where there seems to be no end in sight. However, we do run into great buys from time to time, and we pass them right along. Incidentally, if you ever see an item in our ad that you don't know how to prepare, don't hesitate to ask. We usually have a good recipe for any item you might want.

4-H leaders are honored

Madison County 4-H adult leaders were honored at a 4-H leaders' appreciation banquet last week in Edwardsville.

The award dinner is designed to show appreciation to the many volunteer 4-H leaders throughout the county who "unselfishly give their time and guidance to lead the 1,151 Four-H members enrolled in club work."

Pins were given to leaders completing one to four years of club leadership, with certificates and pins presented to leaders completing five, 10, 15, 20 and 25 years of leading a 4-H club.

Leaders receiving the five-year award were: Judy Ernst and Lester Gaffner, Grantfork; Rosemary Dorsey, Moss; Sharon Kaufman and Vernon Mindrup, Albamora; Violet Lane, Bethalto; Sherry Spencer, Godfrey; Diane Schilling, Highland; and Mrs. David Schmidt, Granite City.

Receiving ten-year honors were: Doris Gyllb, Shiley Ursprung and Mrs. Herman Harris, Edwardsville.

Two leaders receiving the 15-year pin were: Ruth Becker, Edwardsville; and Mrs. Lewis Knackstedt, Albamora.

Idell Wehling, Albamora received an award for leading 20 years and Mrs. Dorothy Wentz, Marine, was honored for leading a 4-H club for 25 years.

Speaker for the program was Joe Lucco, state representative, 56th District. He praised 4-H leaders for their work.

New site of trial in Horvat murder

A trial date has been set for Oct. 27 in Chester, Ill., for Wayne Wilson, 16, East St. Louis, one of three youths accused of torturing and beating a Granite City teacher and her handicapped son and fatally wounding her husband at their home in East St. Louis Feb. 13.

Circuit Judge Carl Becker, at the prosecution's request, has separated Wilson's trial from those of Jasper Glenn, 17, and Ronnie Lee Cunningham, 17, both of East St. Louis.

Glenn and Cunningham have requested hearings to determine whether they are competent to stand trial. Psychiatric examinations are possible and Judge Becker said he granted the separate trial of Wilson to avoid unnecessary delay.

The case was transferred to Chester on grounds there had been too much adverse publicity in St. Clair County to assure a fair trial here.

Each of the three is charged with murder, armed robbery and aggravated battery. Mrs. Laura Horvat, 60, a Wilson School teacher at the time of the occurrence, said she, her husband and her son were in bed when four youths broke in and severely beat them. She suffered internal injuries, massive external bruises and multiple fractures of both hands.

Her son had an ear severed, one side of his face was smashed and his body was covered with huge bruises. Both hands also were crushed. Her husband, George, 62, a former insurance salesman here, died within hours of the beating. He had smashed hands, large cuts, massive bruises and other injuries.

They had been beaten with sticks and pipes, sprayed with gold paint, and food, flour and cooking oil were poured over them.

Their house was ransacked, but the assailants appeared to have committed the incidents more for the thrill of the beatings than for any material gains, it was felt.

Marion Sykes dies at 85

Marion W. Sykes, 85, of 2921 Palmer Ave., Ill. for one and a half years, died at 6:35 a.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Born in Dover, Tenn., he had resided here for 55 years. Mr. Sykes had been employed for 33 years at Granite City Steel prior to his retirement in 1955. He was a charter member of the First Church of the Nazarene.

His wife, Mrs. Frances Sykes, died Sept. 16, 1971.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Dean (Dorothy) Embick of Edwardsville; one sister, Mrs. Sarah Watler of Edwardsville; two brothers, Frank and Gilbert Sykes, both of Granite City; 11 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today at the church. Details are given in the obituary column.

Hospitals say some may have to close due to Medicaid 'freeze'

Robert W. O'Leary, president of the Illinois Hospital Association, last week labeled Illinois Department of Public Aid actions on Medicaid payments as a "false economy."

"These policies will cost more money than they are supposed to save," O'Leary asserted.

Speaking at a press conference in Springfield, accompanied by several hospital chief executives, O'Leary said: "It is important to note that member hospitals are presently providing service to Medicaid patients at less than costs. The difference is passed on to the paying patient."

He added that "the greatest tragedy involved in the state decision to freeze payments to hospitals and inject bureaucratic review of hospitals is that its impact will be on those people who are least able to afford it — Illinois' sick and poor."

O'Leary added that IHA officers had attempted to meet with Governor Daniel Walker to "explain the impact that the cuts would have on the health care delivery system in Illinois. Apparently, the governor does not consider this situation serious because he has not answered our telephone calls."

Senate investigators revealed welfare frauds in Illinois at the $60 million level.

"It's time that the Illinois Department of Public Aid clean its own house and eliminate waste to save the state money," he commented.

"The current level of state Medicaid payments — before cutbacks — covers less than 85 per cent of the hospital costs."

"The difference was loaded on the paying patient. In low welfare areas, these costs can be more readily absorbed as long as the state's payments remain realistic."

"However, in high welfare areas, hospitals are virtually living from hand to mouth — depending on the state for their very existence."

"The latest plan to cut state Medicaid payments can only have a disastrous effect on the total quality of hospital care in this state."

"If allowed to stand, it will force hospitals to do one of three things:

1. "Raise hospital rates to paying patients — which would only contribute to the inflationary spiral and cause many people to drop out of health programs because of the cost."

2. "Cut hospital services and increase unemployment."

3. "Go bankrupt and shut the doors — the ultimate alternative, but one which really exists for several large hospitals serving poor people throughout Illinois."

"Clearly, these alternatives are poor solutions to a serious problem," declared O'Leary. "They would not solve the state's money problems — but would end up costing Illinois much, much more in both real dollars and in vital health care services lost."

"The only real, and most economical, solution is the reversal of the state's action — and to attack the $60 million in welfare fraud."

"Full details of the latest program were being analyzed by the IHA to determine the full extent of the cost to hospitals — and the people they serve."

"When the analysis is completed in the near future, the IHA will try to meet with Gov. Walker to explain the real cost of the cutback program. The findings will also be released to the public at that time."

ARMAMENT COURSE. Airman William T. Wood Jr., son of Mrs. Willma J. Baltrusch, 1615 Poplar St., Granite City, has been selected for technical training in the U. S. Air Force armament systems field at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo. The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex., where he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Wood attended Swifton (Ark.) High School.

Teachers to study films on children

"Children Growing Up," a series of 10 British Broadcasting System films on children's physical, emotional and intellectual development, is to be a major part of the autumn activities of the Teachers' Center Project, according to Thomas C. O'Brien, project director and professor of elementary education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The films, developed by Dr. Joan Bliss, a British psychologist and former research assistant to the Swiss researcher Jean Piaget, will be shown at the weekly meetings of the River Bluffs Teachers' Center and the St. Louis Area Teachers' Center until mid-December. All interested educators are invited to attend. The River Bluffs Teachers' Center meets each Tuesday from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Sunset Hill. The St. Louis Area Teachers' Center meets each Thursday from 4 to 6:30 p.m. at New City School, Waterman and Lake Avenue.

All activities of the centers are free of charge. The Teachers' Center Project is funded by SIUE and the National Science Foundation.

Offer refresher course on driving examination to GC senior citizens

A free refresher course to aid senior citizens on their driver's license renewal examinations will be offered monthly at the Granite City senior citizens' center, 1918 Edison Ave.

The next course is to be taught Oct. 27, 28 and 29.

Edgar Paddock, Delbert McKissick and Oscar Ash are volunteer instructors for the course, which is sponsored by the office of Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett.

It will consist of study and review of the rules of the road and an unofficial vision test which will give senior citizens an opportunity to detect a vision problem and take corrective measures before they take their driver exams.

Officials of the senior citizens' center here say they plan to repeat the course monthly, as long as there is a demand for it.

Howlett's office suggests that senior citizens attend the classes not more than 60 days before the date set for the renewal examinations.

Additional information is available by calling the center at 877-4373 or Edgar Paddock at 877-7901.

More senior volunteers needed

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) is seeking senior citizens who are not presently involved in clubs and other programs, Jim Fensterman, an RSVP supervisor, told members of the Parent-Teacher-Organization at Sacred Heart School last week.

Survey figures estimate between 5,000 and 7,000 persons over the age of 60 reside in the Quad-City area, Fensterman noted. He said there are many "volunteer stations" in the community where the services of senior citizens can be used in a variety of worthwhile endeavors.

Many senior residents in contact with the RSVP project already are active in other areas. We want to involve the senior citizen who is not active and we know there are many in the Quad-Cities, Fensterman said.

The local RSVP office, located at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, is sponsored by Belleville Area College.

Fensterman invited any senior citizen interested in joining the volunteer program to contact him at the YMCA, or call 876-7229. He also urged those at the meeting to relay information about the RSVP to any senior person they know personally.

The Rev. James Hill gave the opening prayer and introduced the Rev. James Neuman, new associate priest at the church, and Deacon Michael Inyard, also new to the parish.

The pastor announced the Most Rev. Joseph A. McNicholas, bishop of the Springfield Diocese, will celebrate Mass at 5 p.m. Saturday at Sacred Heart Church, with a reception to honor the new prelate set immediately afterward in the school building.

Mrs. Maggie Williamson, president, conducted the business session and reported the election to one-year terms on the parish council of Mrs. Betty Gac, Mrs. Susan Thompson and Bob Lombardi.

PTO members agreed to help organize a boosters club to sponsor and chaperone boys' basketball and girls' soccer programs and other sports activities at the parochial school.

Appointed to contact parents for assistance in forming the new club were John Suarez, Patrick Alexander, Florence Rensack and Kathy Heagy.

Warning signs of potential strokes

Stroke, the nation's third largest cause of death, appears to spring out of nowhere and attack its victims without any warning.

But new evidence reveals certain characteristics of the stroke-prone person, an Illinois Heart Association spokesman said today. He adds that often there are symptoms to warn that a stroke is on the way.

They take the form of "little strokes."

Because they may last for only a few seconds, or at most a few days, they are often ignored by the victim.

The symptoms are:

1. Sudden loss of vision in one eye, or sometimes double vision, with complete recovery in several minutes.
2. Sudden weakness, with a prickling sensation or numbness of arm or leg, with recovery after several minutes or up to 24 hours.
3. Intermittent difficulty in speech or written communication.
4. Intermittent lack of muscular coordination.

The Illinois Heart Association also lists six risk factors of stroke and warns that the higher the number of risk factors for any individual, the greater the chance of stroke.

The risk factors include:

1. High blood pressure.
2. A history of brief, short-lived "small strokes."
3. A variety of heart abnormalities which can be detected by medical examination and x-rays.
4. Evidence of hardening of the arteries in parts of the body such as the heart, neck and legs.
5. Diabetes.
6. Increased levels of blood cholesterol and other fats.

Although these are the major risk factors associated with stroke, other factors to be considered are cigarette smoking, high levels of "red blood cells" and the presence of gout.

Stroke claims 211,000 lives annually and is outranked only by heart attacks (670,000) and cancer (318,000) in the number of deaths caused each year.

LIST WITH COCHRANE-WOLF

IF YOU HAVE NO CHURCH COME TO First United Presbyterian 224 S. Delmar, Granite City

The risk factors of stroke are similar to those of heart attack; both are caused, for the most part, by a blockage of blood flow, preventing the delivery of oxygen to parts of the body beyond the clogged artery.

When this blockage occurs in a blood vessel supplying the heart itself, a heart attack may occur.

When a blood vessel to the brain is blocked or when a vessel in the brain ruptures, a stroke may occur.

But stroke may be prevented, says the Illinois Heart Association, by regular medical checkups and by taking the advice of one's doctor.

ARMENIAN RUG is shown by Edward Asadorian of Granite City. The rug depicts many important symbols of the Armenian heritage and was woven near the turn of the century by an Armenian craftsman.

INTRICATE INSCRIPTION in Armenian is woven into a rare carpet which will be displayed here starting tomorrow. The inscription is a reproduction of the cover of The Worldly Armenian Dictionary, and shows the elaborate detail used by the craftsman who made the rug.

Rare rug is to be displayed

The lobby of First Granite City National Bank this week will feature a hand-made rug woven at about the turn of the century by an Armenian craftsman.

Earlier Armenians were forced about 300 years ago into Iran and were not allowed to return to their homeland.

The picture rug, which contains numerous symbols of the Armenian culture, was done in dark colors, showing the depressed mood of the artist, who was in the displaced culture.

The rug is on loan to Edward Asadorian, 1544 Lindell Blvd., Granite City, owner of Asadorian Rug Co., St. Louis, and is from the collection of Hagop Asadorian, New York City, Edward's cousin.

In the center of the rug is a figure representing Mother Armenia. Corner inscriptions designate the four Armenian dynasties of the kingdom.

The top panel shows Mount Ararat, where Noah's ark was believed to have landed. Beneath the mountain is a crown representing the crowned head of the church.

Also on the rug are three historic Armenian churches ruined by invaders or by time. Each was constructed during the early years of Christianity.

Carefully woven into the bottom of the carpet is an inscription of the cover of The Worldly Armenian Dictionary, the inscription written in Armenian.

To compare the old skills of rugmaking to the works of modern rug craftsmen, Asadorian also has on display in the bank lobby a modern throw-rug made from pure silk.

Assisting in displaying the rug is his son, Richard Asadorian, 2559 Delmar Ave., head of the Oriental rug department at Asadorian Rug Co.

The display will open tomorrow and continue through Friday.

Program on new pension law offered

A video-cassette program on the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, (ERISA) is now being scheduled for showing at regular and special meetings of community service, social, fraternal and labor organizations.

R. C. DeMarco, assistant regional director for U.S. Labor Department labor-management services, has announced that the program is being presented as a part of the department's technical assistance and public information efforts.

Employees and their dependents will learn what the new law attempts to do to provide protections and guarantees for those rights and benefits that have been established by their private welfare and pension plans. The law assigns responsibility to the U.S. secretary of labor for the establishment of administrative and enforcement programs to protect such rights.

In addition to the slide-cassette presentation, an ERISA compliance officer is being assigned to answer specific questions and to distribute Department of Labor ERISA information material that participants can take home to discuss with their families.

Scheduling information can be obtained by writing to the Chicago Regional Office of the Labor Management Services Administration, Room 1000-B, Federal Office Building, 239 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60604.

Settlement of $90,000 with design firm

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees on Thursday approved payment of $90,000 to the architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates in settlement of a lawsuit filed by the architectural firm against the board.

SIU School of Dental Medicine

The architectural firm originally sought $145,000 in fees and advancements. The U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Illinois recommended $90,000 as a fair and reasonable settlement.

Edwardsville, estimated to cost $30 million, and the work by the architectural firm was terminated.

Later, the university refused payment of the firm's bill for fees because SIU claimed that payment for the preliminary planning engaged in by the architectural firm had been contingent on construction funds becoming available.

The case was set for trial Sept. 24, but pre-trial settlement negotiations were initiated, with a recommendation for settlement being made by the court. The recommendation was supported by the trial counsel for each party to the case.

Class for salesmen, brokers

The Office of Conferences and Institutes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present a 15-hour continuing education program in October and November for real estate salesmen and brokers, according to Bonnie Little, coordinator of conferences and institutes at the university.

The conference on advanced real estate principles is sponsored by the university in cooperation with the Edwardsville-Collinsville Board of Realtors.

Conference classes will meet in the Missouri Room of the University Center on Thursdays, from 7 until 10 p.m., beginning Oct. 23.

Session topics will include listings, title search, drafting, broker-salesman relationships, salesmen-salesman relationships, and broker to broker relationships. The instructors are professionals in the real estate and legal professions who maintain current knowledge about Illinois laws and practices.

Satisfactory completion of the 15-hour institute will apply toward the 90-hour requirement for taking the Illinois broker license examination.

Registration for the course is $55.50, which includes all materials. Registration is personal, non-transferable, and is made for the entire period of the institute.

The conference is limited to 20 participants. Registrations will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis. No registrations will be accepted by telephone.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Office of Conferences and Institutes, SIUE.

Library film on outer space

A film on the popular subject of visitors from outer space is next on the program for elementary-age children at the Granite City Public Library.

The film, "In Search of Ancient Mysteries," is based on the book "Chariot of the Gods" by Erich von Daniken and is narrated by Rod Serling. It will be shown on Saturday, Oct. 18, at 2 p.m. in the Children's Department.

For preschool children, "The Fisherman and His Wife" will be presented on Tuesday, Oct. 14, at 10 a.m. This film relates what happens when a fisherman catches a huge fish that is really a prince under a spell.

In "The Stray," also for preschoolers, the parable of the lost sheep is effectively retold through the story of a little boy lost on a zoo field trip. This film is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 21, at 10 a.m.

For tips on growing and caring for houseplants, visit the display of the Gardeners Garden Club at GCPL. The subject of the display this month was chosen to coincide with the program on houseplants sponsored by the Granite City Park District.

The public library will be closed Monday, October 27, in observance of Veterans' Day.

New Items. When the party's a bore, when no one's paying attention to you, when friends no longer call, what do you do? "Sneaky Feats: The Art of Showing Off and 53 Ways to Do It" is the answer. Tom Ferrell and Lee Eisenberg list a funny array of attention-getting grabbers from complex magic tricks to simple tips on recipes and hobbies.

Waging tabletop battles with model soldiers has become a popular hobby attracting many thousands of enthusiasts of all ages. In "Battles with Model Soldiers," David Featherstone explains what wargaming is all about, how armies can be assembled, and how, on any reasonable-sized table, realistic engagements can be fought by tactical maneuvering.

New Fiction. Henry Carlisle recreates the Second Seminole War in "The Land Where the Sun Dies." This is the story of Eliza Hutchins of Tennessee, whose life is profoundly touched by the Indians of Florida, and of her husband, Lt. Laird Caffrey, who must fight them.

John Hawkdale Pendragon of Robert Trevelyan's "Pendragon: Late of Prince Albert's Own," was one of the few British officers who survived the Charge of the Light Brigade. After recovering from the wounds of that military engagement to solve the mysterious murder of a top British spy.

R. F. Delderfield's new saga, "Seven Men of Gascony," spans the heroic triumphs and defeats of Napoleon. The novel relates the lives, the loves, the battles, and the enduring comradeship of seven soldiers from Austria to Portugal, from Germany to Russia, and through the final defeat at Waterloo.

"South Street" is David Bradley's first novel and is receiving good reviews — "This novel vibrates with a sense of life so strong, a sense of character so rich, that to read 'South Street' is to be there: there among the lives and half-lives in the black city."

Higher Education Board accused of dictatorial, negative planning

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees on Thursday expressed strong opposition to Master Plan IV for post-secondary education in Illinois, as proposed to the Illinois Board of Higher Education (BHE) by the BHE staff.

The SIU Board, meeting at Carbondale, adopted a resolution asking the BHE for the opportunity to submit the proposed document to constituency groups, who would report their reaction at the November meeting of the SIU Board.

The resolution also requests the BHE, "before going to public hearings with the Master Plan, to redraft the tone of the document to express the partnership which exists between the Illinois university systems and the BHE."

The BHE is scheduled to consider approval of Master Plan IV at its November meeting and later hold public hearings on the document throughout the state, with a reported target date of January for final approval.

In effect, the SIU Board resolution asks the BHE to delay tentative approval of the document at the November meeting until constituency groups have had an opportunity to have inputs into the development of the plan.

Several members of the SIU Board and the university presidents expressed concerns about Master Plan IV, particularly in regard to the plan's statements on governance, tuition, tuition waivers, program development and projected enrollment.

Several spokesmen said they feel the BHE is trying to take away the rights and responsibilities of the various governing boards of the university systems in the state.

SIUE President John S. Rendleman said he agrees with the need for constituency involvement in development of the Master Plan.

He said he is "appalled at the negative aspects of the document" as prepared by the BHE staff. He charged that the BHE is not listening to the will of the people, and that the Master Plan does not reflect demographic differences in the state.

He declared that the document could be called the "Mein Kampf" of Illinois.

Ivan Elliott, chairman of the SIU board, said the proposed documents should be studied seriously by constituency groups because "it may provide the guidelines for post-secondary education in Illinois for many years."

Three DeMolays honored

Three DeMolays from James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, have been conferred with the Chevalier Degree. They are William A. Cochran Jr., David M. Epping and John L. Young.

Two others receiving the degree were from Edwardsville and Wood River.

The degree team, all Chevaliers, was composed of Robert E. Holter of Macomb, grand commander; Charles E. Hileman Jr., commander in the west; Hiram B. Ables, commander in the south; Charles A.

Meyer, grand chaplain; all of Granite City. Court of Edwardsville, grand marshal.

The Degree of Chevalier is the highest honor an active DeMolay can receive. The degree cannot be applied for and the nomination is made without the knowledge of the DeMolay who is honored. It is a citation for outstanding and marked DeMolay activity and labor.

The conferring followed the public installation of officers for the Edwardsville Chapter.

Ceramics featured

The ceramics program in the art and design department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been featured on the cover of the September issue of Ceramics Monthly.

The cover art, adapted from a photograph by SIUE campus photographer Charles H. Cox, displays the hands of a university student refining the bottom of a pot while learning to throw on the potter's wheel. Inside the magazine, a five-page article shows photographs of students in the process of learning about ceramics, accompanied by a story explaining the ceramics program at SIUE.

The feature is one in a series of articles offered by the magazine to acquaint its readers with some of the schools and universities offering programs in the ceramic arts.

Ceramics Monthly, published nationally by Professional Publications, Inc., offers its readers information on what is happening on the ceramic scene, listing an itinerary of shows and places where art students can exhibit, technical information on different clay processes, and information on programs where the serious student might study.

Rail car lack delaying grain

Illinois Director of Agriculture Robert J. "Bud" Williams said Friday a shortage of rail covered hopper cars is starting to interrupt the orderly marketing of grain in the southern third of the state.

Williams, who is on a trade mission to Eastern Europe, said, "A lack of planning for this year's harvest movement precipitated a shortage of equipment which could have been avoided had shippers and carriers cooperated prior to harvest."

"Late in the summer, it became evident that Illinois would have a bumper grain harvest in 1975 and that overseas demand for this grain would be heavy."

"Current estimates show that 635,000 tons of wheat and corn are to be moved from the Gulf to the Soviet Union in the month of October alone."

"In addition, we still have the normal export movements from the Gulf to countries that have been long term customers for United States grain."

"This combines to well over one million tons of grain which must be moved from the Gulf in October, and much of the corn in this movement will be coming from Illinois."

"In order for Illinois and the grain to service its domestic and overseas customers, there must be adequate planning, in advance, for the timely movement of this grain's exceptionally large crop."

Williams also said that the Illinois Department of Agriculture has consistently monitored the availability of equipment in all modes of grain transportation since the 1972-73 season.

Since late summer, it had forewarned both shippers and carriers in Illinois agriculture that extremely careful planning would be required this fall, if sufficient amounts of equipment were to be available for this year's export movements.

Williams summarized that it is imperative that carriers and shippers alike coordinate, as far in advance as possible, all plans for grain movements this fall.

He suggested that each shipper immediately evaluate his transportation requirements, especially short-term needs, and contact his carrier agent to request service.

Williams added, "I cannot express strongly enough the necessity for cooperation among the interests involved in grain distribution. The carriers and shippers alike should have met this need long ago, but we are in a position now where their cooperation is required."

'Man for all Seasons' here Wednesday night

"A Man for All Seasons," the highly acclaimed play by English author Robert Bolt, will be presented by a professional touring group, the Alpha-Omega Players, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

The Alpha-Omega Players is a professional repertory company. The troupe coming to Granite City is one of three such touring companies in Alpha-Omega.

Every year, they cover about 50,000 miles, each playing one-night stands in communities from Maine to California. Their production style is simple, using a minimum of props and scenery, and also creating settings in the imagination of the audience.

Because of their flexibility, they often perform in a place not intended to be a "theater."

More, a loyal subject but unable to stifle his conscience on this issue, asks, "Why does your Grace need my poor support?" The king replies, "Because you're honest. What's more to the purpose, you're known to be honest."

When More still cannot surrender his scruples, his honesty becomes an intolerable accusation of the king, and charges of treason must be trumped up so that he can be beheaded.

Technically a tragedy, "A Man for All Seasons" is sprinkled with brilliant wit, critics relate. Since More's refusal to be intimidated in a sense represents a triumph rather than a defeat, the play ends on an inspirational note.

The Alpha-Omega Players' version presents highlights of the award-winning drama. The troupe will play a variety of roles, and narrations will tie the scenes together.

Adult tickets cost $2; students, including college students, will pay $1. Preferred seating is available for $5.

precedent run for a serious drama.

Sir Thomas More was a man who loved his family and loved life. But, as one of his enemies says of him in the play, he had "a horrible moral equit."

Sir Thomas' unswerving defense of what was most vital to him, his convictions, is made into an example for this century, when virtue is often the slave of "convenience," critics assert.

Much of the play's fascination for modern audiences is derived from the scenes in which More firmly withstands the pleas of his friends and family, as well as the threats of the king's henchmen, that he go along with the crowd in bestowing his blessing on Henry's divorce.

In one of these scenes, the king visits More's home to pressure him into supporting the divorce and its subsequent break with the Roman Church.

Tickets will be available at the door. Advance ticket information is available at the church office, 877-4555.
